

The NEW BOATS to be discovered at the forthcoming boat shows

September traditionally marks the start of the season for the boat shows, which throughout the world, from Europe to Asia, via the Americas, allow us to discover the new boats the builders have concocted for us. And as far as the new catamarans and trimarans are concerned, the coming year is going to be particularly exciting!

SOLARWAVE 62

The Solarwave 62 was launched at the end of June, and is going to be presented to the public for the first time at the Cannes show. An innovative boat, as it offers a range of over 100 miles per day with just the sun as its energy source...
