

Sunseeker 74 Sport

The new Sunseeker 74 Sport Yacht is a typically dynamic design from the British manufacturer, with a hull punctuated by a run of dramatically angular windows. Inside, this feast of fenestration provides plenty of light and waterline views, while a flexible layout - depending on the whims of the owner - allows for layouts that favour entertaining over lounging. A new cockpit door mechanism adds to the versatility, allowing the yacht to open up to the elements in warmer climates. www.sunseeker.com

Silent 55

Billed as the first ocean-going full electric catamaran, the Silent 55 is the most technically advanced project to date from Austrian yacht designers Silent Yachts. The 55 joins the 64 and 79 models and will make its ocean-going debut at this year's Festival. First announced in 2016, Heike and Michael Köhler's vision of a whisper-quiet, eco-friendly superyacht uses a broad catamaran hull to maximise the area of solar panels. Silent Yachts suggest their four-cabin yacht has a
